PREFACE.

(1) These regulations supersede the following publications :—

Regulations for the Equipment of the Auxiliary Force (India) :—

Section I.—Infantry, 1925.

Section II.—Cavalry, 1925.

Section III.—Artillery, 1922.

Section IV.—Engineer Units, 1922.

Section V.—Machine Gun Corps, 1927.

Section VII.—Madras Signal Company, 1930.

When bound together with the appendices detailed in the table of contents, this volume will show, or refer to, all scales of equipment and stores (other than barrack stores and certain defence stores) authorised for A. F. (I.) units.

The other publications, to which references are made are :—

Equipment Regulations (India), Part 1.

Equipment Regulations (India), Part 2, Section XII-G (B).

Tentage Regulations (India).

(2) In some cases, to facilitate printing, quantities have been expressed in denominations other than those under which the stores are borne in vocabularies. In all demands, however, as well as when accounting for stores, quantities must be expressed in the denominations given in :—

Vocabulary of Ordnance Stores (India).

Priced Vocabulary of Clothing and Necessaries (India).

C. M. T. S. Depot Catalogue.

(3) In all cases of newly introduced stores the existing stocks of the superseded articles will be exhausted before the latest patterns are issued.

(4) Certain items have been shown in italics to indicate that the equipment is not current equipment of the army in India.

(5) The scale of equipment authorised for armoured trains is given in Appendix V.
